The British Columbian.

NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 26, 1863.
THE COLONIAL OFFICE.

We publish to-day a letter from a gentleman in London who is both reliable and thoroughly informed upon the subject respecting which he writes. What a sad commentary upon the Colonial system of Great Britain. It is very evident that, to conceal his own negligence and cover up the misdeeds of his protegee, the Duke deceived our delegate, and in some measure sacrificed the interests of this Colony, and at the same time "jockeyed" the House of Commons. What a mass of corruption is carefully concealed from the eye of the nation in the "Red tape Office" in Downing Street! Prevent enquiry because it would raise up filth, and bespatter the author of this filth with praise in the House of Lords in order the better to conceal the putridity of the mass! And this is the way the Lords do business: this the Colonial system of Great Britain! Little wonder at the mismanagement of Colonial affairs; little wonder the Imperial ear is so difficult of access; little wonder the streamlets of Colonial legislation are so impure where the fountain is so corrupt.

This is a most painful subject to the British colonist. With a heart swelling with loyal love for his dear fatherland, he fancies in his fond affection that the paternal heart of the Empire yearns towards her distant child with all the purity and devotion of a fond mother. And this is all romance? Is it really true that the colonies are a mere thing of convenience, to be played with, to be used at the caprice of a lazy Duke, or sacrificed to preserve the prestige of a guilty Governor? Is it really true that between us and our beloved Queen, who we know is pure and good, there is a gulf of corruption over which it is impossible for our prayers to pass, or Her grace to reach us? Is it possible that our petitions for five long years have found their way into the Duke's waste-paper basket, that our delegate has been grossly deceived and our rights withheld, simply to save the character of Mr. Douglas and spare the nation the disgusting sight of the charnel-house of Downing Street? If not true to the full, yet truth enough there is in it to give rise to reflections deep and bitter in the mind of every colonist. To those who have torn themselves away from home and home endearments and gone forth to the very ends of the earth, to seek their fortunes it is true, but also to build up and extend the Empire of their beloved Queen, with hearts swelling with pride at the remembrance of the great and powerful nation to which they belong, while they are engaged in the struggle to found new and distant colonies, to such the humiliating reflection that they have to submit to all this low chicanery, which would disgrace even a Yankee Congress, is peculiarly bitter and discouraging.

One lesson, however, we may learn from all this. To the Commons of Great Britain we must in future look. They at least are gentlemen of independence, who have no motive for concealment, who are ever ready to ferret out corruption and expose it to the gaze of the nation. To the Commons, therefore, must future appeals be made. The old Duke can burk our petitions with impunity, and consign them without the slightest remorse to the limbo of his office; but he entertains a wholesome dread of the Commons, and an appeal in that direction would prove more potent than a score of petitions either to or through the Colonial office.

AN AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY CLERGYMEN.—A convention of ministers of several Protestant denominations has been in session in Pittsburgh, with a view to have the Constitution of the United States amended, by inserting in it some clause recognizing "the being and attributes of Almighty God, the Divine authority of the Holy Scriptures, the law of God as a paramount rule, and Jesus the Messiah, the Saviour and Lord of all." They have just adjourned sine die, after appointing a committee, with very large powers, to agitate the subject by addresses to the people, and to call a National Convention of persons friendly to the object, whenever, in their opinion, the ends sought will be promoted thereby.—N. Y. Tribune, 13th July.

A CRAZY MILLIONAIRE.—The Springfield Republican states that Solomon Sturgis, the wealthiest man in Chicago, recently passed through that city on his way to the Hartford Asylum, a raving maniac, in charge of three keepers. During the first year of the war he made $1,000,000.

NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 26, 1863.

PROSPECTIVE.

Whether we look at this Colony in its distinctive individuality or as an integral part of the great British North American Federation, the future is alike pregnant with promise. The statements respecting the progress and importance of this Colony which dropped from the lips of the Duke of Newcastle in the House of Lords on the second of July cannot fail to have their effect in drawing the attention of capitalists and immigrants to this country, while, his allusion to the great importance, both in a colonial and imperial point of view, of overland communication between Canada and this country, places beyond a doubt the ultimate accomplishment of that gigantic undertaking to which every British American must look forward with the fondest hope. The work will be speedily commenced and vigorously prosecuted under the auspices of the new company, backed up and encouraged, as they doubtless will be, by the British Government; and in a very short time we shall begin to feel the effects of it here, for no sooner will that enterprise be fairly inaugurated than New Westminster, as the Pacific terminus, will attract attention it has hitherto failed to command, which will result in a rapid flow of capital and immigration, and a consequent rise in the price of property and rapid progress in every local improvement, and then will "Mr. Cameron's vision" respecting our commerce become a reality.

It is true we fail to see the "one thousand miles of roads" alluded to by the Duke, for that only exists in the Governor's dispatches and in the brain of his dupe; yet, nevertheless, a very considerable progress has been made in the construction of a great colonial road, which, although falling far short of reaching the Rocky Mountains, is in the right direction, and would form no unimportant part of the great interoceanic road. It is true we have obtained it at great sacrifice and enormous expense. Many miles of useless road have been constructed, much of which is even now falling into disuse. Nevertheless, we have a road system which, when completed in all its connections, we may justly be proud of. Commencing at our seaport and passing up the valley of the Fraser this arterial road cannot fail to be the great highway of the Colony.

In this connection we may not be going too much out of our way in alluding to a rumor current in Victoria to the effect that it is proposed to grant a charter to Mr. Hood for the construction of a road from Bentinck Arm to the Mouth of Quesnelle. Considering the vast amount of our revenue which has been expended upon our present road system and in view of all the interests at stake we believe it to be the bounden duty of the Government to consolidate as much as possible our interests for the present, and do no act which will detract from the success of so great an undertaking; and although we do not apprehend that a road can be made from Bentinck to complete successfully with it, yet the very granting of a charter, if the scheme be ever so unfeasible, will have the effect of unsettling the public mind, and thereby prevent the investment of capital and the settling up of the agricultural lands contiguous to the line of road. And if Mr. Douglas should, upon the eve of handing over the seals of office to his successor, disposed to consummate such a suicidal act we look with confidence to the Chief Commissioner, who, if he has not the power to prevent, at all events possesses the power to delay the matter until such time as our new Governor can consult with his advisers, in whose hands we feel assured the interests of the Colony, in respect of this question at least, will be safe.

Municipal Council.

The Municipal Council met on Monday evening last at the usual hour, the President in the chair. Present, Councillors Holbrook, Webster, Armstrong, Manson, Ross and Hooper.

Mr. Holbrook introduced a Bye-Law to regulate the rate of assessment for the year 1863-64, which, after a suspension of the rules of order, was considered in committee of the whole, and read a first, second and third time, and passed, fixing the rate at 2 per cent.

Mr. Holbrook introduced a Bye-Law for the prevention of fire in the city, which was read a first time and referred to the Fire Prevention Committee.

Moved by Mr. Holbrook, seconded by Mr. Webster, that a side-walk be constructed upon Columbia street from Mary street to the south-east corner of Lot 13, Block 21. The specifications being read were referred to the Board of Works, to be reported upon at next meeting. The Council then adjourned.

ALL CURES MADE EASY!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts and Old Wounds.

No description of wound, sore, or ulcer can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases readily assume a healthy appearance whenever this medicament is applied; sound flesh springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested, and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

Piles, Fistulas and Internal Inflammation.

These distressing and weakening diseases may with certainty be cured by the sufferer themselves, if they will use Holloway's Ointment, and closely attend to the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases readily assume a healthy appearance whenever this medicament is applied; sound flesh springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested, and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

Rheumatism, Gout & Neuralgia.
Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and subduing pain in these complaints in the same degree as Holloway's cooling Ointment and purifying Pills. When used simultaneously they drive all inflammation and depravities from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted. A cure may always be effected, even under the worst circumstances, if the use of these medicines be persevered in.

Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm & other Skin Diseases.

After fomentation with warm water, utmost relief and speediest cure can be readily obtained in all complaints affecting the skin and joints, by the simultaneous use of the Ointment and Pills. But it must be remembered that nearly all skin diseases indicate the depravity of the blood and derangement of the liver and stomach, consequently, in many cases, time is required to purify the blood, which will be effected by a judicious use of the Pills. The general health will be readily improved, although the eruption may be driven out more freely than before, and which should not be promoted; perseverance is necessary.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps & all other Derangements of the Throat.

On the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the neck and upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, as salt is forced into meat; this course will at once remove inflammation and ulceration. The worst cases will yield to this treatment by following the printed directions.

Scrofula or King's Evil and Swelling of the Glands.

This class of cases may be cured by Holloway's purifying Pills and Ointment, as their double action of purifying the blood and strengthening the system renders them more suitable than any other remedy for all complaints of a scrofulous nature. As the blood is impure the liver, stomach and bowels, being much deranged, require purifying medicine to bring about a cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs.	Chapped Hands.	Scalds.
Bad Breasts.	Contracted and Sore Nipples.
Burns.	Stiff Joints.	Sore-throats.
Bunions.	Elephantiasis.	Skin-diseases.
Bite of Mosquitoes.	Fistulas.	Scurvy.
and Sand-Flies.	Gout.	Sore-heads.
Coco-bay.	Glandular Swellings.	Tumors.
Chigo-foot.	Lumbago.	Ulcers.
Corns (soft).	Piles.	Wounds.
Cancers.	Rheumatism.	Yaws.
Chilblains.

Sold at the establishment of PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar) London; and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilized world, at the following prices:—1s. 1jd., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each Pot.

* There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 26, 1883.
RED RIVER SETTLEMENT.

It would seem our fellow colonists in the Red River Settlement are made of better stuff than ourselves. The long neglect of the Imperial Government has had its effect upon a community naturally quiet and contented; and the appointment of Mr. Dallas as Governor but added insult to previous injury.

It will be remembered that last fall a very strong feeling was raised, and a Mr. Ross was appointed a delegate to England for the purpose of representing their grievances; but before he started on his mission the news from home was of such a character as to induce the people to believe that their interests were receiving due attention, and that it would be prudent under all the circumstances to let the matter drop. It would seem, however, from recent advices, that some local sores, such as the persecution and imprisonment of certain individuals by the Governor, were kept open and subsequently broke out into open rupture. A clergyman had been imprisoned at Fort Garry, and after several futile attempts to obtain his release by peaceful means, an armed party broke open the jail on the 24th April, and liberated him. A Mr. Stewart was arrested shortly after for taking part in the matter, which led to the following results: "An armed force appeared in front of Fort Garry, and despatched a messenger for Mr. James Ross, whom they wished to speak for them. He was soon on the ground. They, in the first place, desired a paper to be drawn up, to be signed by those present, pledging themselves to stand by each other to the last, and ever to maintain what was the fact, that there was no instigator or leader in this movement, but that all stood on precisely the same footing. This done, they requested Mr. Ross to explain to Mr. Dallas that they wanted three things—first, that Mr. James Stewart be forthwith released from gaol; second, that those who were concerned in the Rev. Mr. Corbett's release be let alone; and third, that Mr. McKenney, the Sheriff, be removed from office. Mr. Ross rode into the Fort and was met by Mr. Macintosh, who said that Mr. Dallas was ready to hold intercourse with the armed force, but would prefer another channel of communication than Mr. Ross. The latter at once expressed himself quite willing to step out of the way, and did so. Six others were appointed. They proceeded, in company with Mr. Macintosh, into Fort Garry, and there remained about an hour and a half. Mr. Dallas refused to meet any of their requests. They then forcibly entered the gaol and released Mr. Stewart."

We congratulate our fellow colonists upon the subsequent recall of Mr. Dallas, who is of the wrong breed to govern acceptably a British community, who has only made trouble since he went there, and who, had he been permitted to remain, would doubtless have driven that fine and promising settlement to seek in connection with the neighboring Republic that justice and protection which they have so long sought in vain from that Empire of which they form a part.

Will the British Government never learn a lesson from all their colonial difficulties arising from gross mismanagement, or are we drifting back into the dark ages of old fogyism, oppression and wrong?

FROM CARIBOO.

FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS!

Mr. Malcolm Monroe, of Victoria, who has a share in the Moffat claim; Mr. McNeven, of the Cariboo claim; and Mr. Bartholomew, of the Barker and Cameron claims, arrived by the str. Flying Dutchman on Monday. They left on the 11th inst. Mr. Monroe brought down $40,000. The others sold out to the bank in Cariboo. Mr. Scott, the packer, also came down by the same steamer, having in his possession $10,000. This party brings down very little news. Flour had gone up to 30c; fresh meat had also risen a little. The weather was warm and pleasant, and sickness had mostly disappeared. Three or four quart leads had been discovered, some estimated to yield $500 to the ton. Mr. Monroe brought down a number of specimens of gold-bearing quartz from a lead on Keynton Creek, a tributary of Willow River. These specimens are very rich, even the outcroppings being highly impregnated with gold. The saw mills have found a ready market for all they could cut. Mr. Adams was making preparations to build another mill. The Rev. L. Taylor was lecturing to very large congregations. He was well received by the miners everywhere. The news from Lowhee Creek is good. Several claims are yielding well, and extensive prospecting going on.

ARREST OF INDIANS AT WILLIAMS LAKE.—We learn that Commissioner Cox was recently down to Williams Lake and arrested a number of Indians upon suspicion of having been concerned in several murders which have been committed in that section of country this season. It is stated that as many as 15 dead bodies have been found in that vicinity, evidently the victims of foul play.

THE SABBATH-OBSERVANCE ACT.—As will appear from our shipping list, several of our steamers left for up-river on Sunday last. Surely such is contrary to the law thereon and should receive the attention of the proper authorities.

FROM THE ISLAND.—The str. Enterprise arrived from Victoria last night about ten o'clock, bringing no eastern news. We gather the following from our Victoria files: A cast-iron hammer for the Hudson Bay Co. pile-driver, weighing 26 cwt., was cast in the foundry of Messrs. Spratt & Kriemler on the 24th. In the Beacon Hill treasure trove case Charles Dove, a sailor, was further examined and committed to stand his trial. The Chronicle says H. M. Flag ship Sittig, accompanied by the Cameleon, with Admiral King-com, left for Burrard Inlet on Monday for the purpose of examining as to the practicability of that harbor as a Naval Station. Mr. Sparrow reports the Comax road nearly completed. Victoria was visited with a shower of rain accompanied with thunder and lightning on Monday evening. The tickets for the excursion to San Juan on Thursday were being taken up rapidly. A Roman Catholic college is shortly to be erected on Pandora street, under the patronage of Bishop Demers. The regalia of the Vancouver Lodge of Freemasons is expected by next California steamer. The Chronicle has the following: Mr. Shively's party also reported that while on their way down Bear River (British Columbia) they saw a shirt and handkerchief hanging to a bush, and upon proceeding to a spot were surprised and grieved to find lying beneath it the dead body of a white man wrapped in a blanket and its head pillowed on a log. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition, and near at hand lay a tin cup on which was scratched these words: "Donald Munro; lost in the wood; is from Inverness, Scotland; born June, 1825."

Finding death inevitable, the deceased, before lying down to die, had scrawled (probably with a pin) the above. Poor fellow! Who can fathom the depth of misery and anguish into which the hearts of those from whom you parted but a few short months ago to seek your fortune in the wilds of British Columbia, will be plunged when your last legacy—the little tin cup, with its rude inscription—is laid before them?

The ship Victor, 22 days from San Francisco, arrived at Esquimalt on Friday with a cargo of general merchandise.

A MODEL JUDICIARY.—The Government Gazette of Saturday contains a notice of the bankruptcy of Edgar Dewdney, and appointing the meetings of his creditors to take place at the Court House, Richmond, on the 14th day of August and the 14th day of September. Look at the facts. All, or nearly all, the creditors of Mr. Dewdney are some five hundred miles from Richmond—in Victoria, New Westminster and Hope. The notice cannot meet their eyes until ten or twelve days after the first meeting has actually taken place, and consequently, we presume, their claims will thus be barred. Why this indecent haste? Why hold the meetings away out of the reach of all or nearly all his creditors? It certainly looks very like a collusion between Mr. Begbie and Mr. Dewdney for the purpose of cheating the creditors of the latter, or, peradventure, protecting some favored creditor at the expense of the others.

THE SALE AT CLINTON.—We learn from parties familiar with that embryo town that a great mistake has been made in fixing the upset price of lots at $200 each. Those who would have purchased lots had they been offered at a reasonable price have, in consequence, decided not to buy, some who have occupied the ground even declining to give the upset price. We think it would be well for the government to reconsider the matter and reduce the price to $50, or at the very most $100, otherwise we fear the sale will prove a failure.

VERY LIKE A WHALE.—A sturgeon of the following dimensions was caught in the river a short distance below this city on Saturday: Length, 10 feet 6 inches; girth, 4 feet 3 inches; extreme width of tail, 1 foot 10 inches. It was caught in a salmon net. We are informed by the person who caught it that much larger ones have been seen in the river.

PIC-NIC.—The annual picnic in connection with the Mary Street Wesleyan Sabbath School will take place to-day on Mr. Brown's ranch opposite this city. The boats will leave the dock shortly after 11 o'clock, A. M.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Unless correspondents will comply with our rule by sending their names with their communications they need not expect to see them in print.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS for week ending Saturday, 22nd August, 1883: Duties, $1123 16 9; harbor dues, $28 17 0; head money, $10 12 0; tonnage dues, $105 4 0. Total, $1268 9 9.

LETTER FROM LONDON.

COVENT GARDEN HOTEL,
London, July 10th, 1883.

As you will doubtless have seen the Times of July 3rd, in which the Duke of Newcastle grants to the Colony of British Columbia the wretched allodivida from the spiny Island of Ceylon, you will naturally feel a little anxious to know how His Grace could have gone to such a place for a model for the British Columbians. Think over the list of some of your celebrated clerical, lay and official visitors here, and you will not be at a loss to discern a key to the puzzle. It is really disheartening after all that the delegates from both Colonies did, and after their receiving the Duke's assurance that a proper representative Government would be granted, to find such a result as a Legislative Council with five heads of departments, five magistrates and five representatives. The only hope, I must confess, is in the new Governor, who, I believe, is sent out as much for giving a corred report of affairs as for looking after imperial interests. But although the good time may be a little tardy in coming, yet it is coming nevertheless; and I think it would be greatly accelerated by a re-think on the part of the people against the monstrousness on the part of the Legislature. An appeal to a new Governor to use his influence to have a more liberal institution granted would not, I think, be without its effect. However, agitation must be kept up at all events until it is obtained. Had the matter come before the House of Commons, as was expected, and as the Duke hinted it would, your delegates had enlisted a large number of both sides of the House to insist on the most liberal measure being granted. The newspapers here, with the exception of the Times, would have also lent their assistance. The Duke, however, was afraid to allow anything connected with British Columbia or Vancouver Island to come into either House of Parliament for discussion, as he was aware, and in fact acknowledged to an honorable member, who asked him point blank about the removal of Mr. Douglas, that "any inquiry into official matters in the Colonies of the North Pacific would only raise up so much filth." He was determined, therefore, to get rid of the Governor quietly, and in order to counteract rumors that had been circulated here in the public prints to the effect that Mr. Douglas was to have been removed on account of misconduct, undertook to bespatter him with praise in the House of Lords, so as to shut off all inquiry in the House of Commons. Mr. Douglas, not being appointed to any other official position, will, I learn, receive the honor of Knighthood.

From assurances given to Mr. Cameron and Mr. M. Clare by the Duke during various interviews they were led to believe that the most sweeping changes would be made, otherwise they could and would have had a Parliamentary inquiry into the whole of the affairs of both Colonies, a circumstance which would have brought the Imperial Colonial office into very bad repute; for neither the Duke nor Mr. Fortescue, the Under Secretary, would have attempted, for a moment, to defend or palliate iniquities which, although due in a great measure to their own supineness, disgusted them as much as they did the people of these Colonies. However the ice has been broken, and pretty effectually, in our colonial affairs, and but little more agitation will be required before every incumbrance in either Colony is thoroughly removed.

Gen. Lee's Address to his Troops after the Battle of Gettysburg.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY NORTHERN VIRGINIA,
July 11, 1863.

General Orders No. 16.—After the long and trying marches, endured with the fortitude that has ever characterized the soldiers of the Army of Northern Virginia, you have penetrated to the country of our enemies; and recalled to the defenses of their own soil those who were engaged in the invasion of ours. You have fought a fierce and sanguinary battle, which, if not attended with the success which has hitherto crowned your efforts, was marked by the same heroic spirit that has commanded the respect of your enemies, the gratitude of your country and the admiration of mankind.

Once more you are called upon to meet the enemy from whom you have torn on so many fields a name that will never die. Once more the eyes of your countrymen are turned upon you, and again do wives and sisters, fathers and mothers and helpless children lean for defense on your strong arms and brave hearts. Let every soldier remember that on his courage and fidelity depends all that makes life worth having; the freedom of his country, the honor of his people and the security of his home. Let each heart grow strong in the remembrance of our glorious past and in the thought of the inestimable blessings for which we contend; and, invoking the assistance of that benign Power which has so signally blessed our former efforts, let us go forth in confidence to secure the peace and safety of our country. Soldiers, your old enemy is before you. Win from him honor worthy of your right cause, worthy of your comrades dead on so many illustrious fields.

R. E. LEE, General Commanding.

MARRIAGE UNDER FALSE PRETEXTS.—An extraordinary charge was preferred against two cotton operatives, named Miles Purcell and Ann Kelly, at the Ashton-under-Lyne Police-court, on Tuesday. It seems that Purcell had been courting a young woman named Elizabeth Walsh and that about ten months ago Walsh gave birth to a child, of which Purcell was the putative father. In November last, Purcell, who belonged to the Militia, was called upon to go to Macclesfield to join his regiment, and on leaving the railway station at Stalybridge, he told Walsh that he would be married to her when he came back, and she must get money and "put the askings in." She did so, and they were "asked" in the Ashton-under-Lyne parish church for three consecutive Sundays, in May. On the 6th of June Purcell returned and saw Walsh when he told her he had no money to be married but if she could raise the necessary funds he would have her. The poor woman endeavored to do this, but failed; and on the 9th of June she ascertained he had been married at the Ashton parish church to the female prisoner in her (Walsh's) name, and under the sanction of the "askings" she had paid for. She met the faithless swine the same night, when he admitted that he was married, and said Kelly and her mother had had him drinking five days, and that he had been up all the night previous to his marriage, drinking. The poor dupe also met her rival, and in her evidence she said, "I told her it was not right to get married in my name, as she had done." (Laughter.) Whereupon Kelly replied, "I have him now, and the devil may think you for it." Evidence was given that both the prisoners had responded to their names as "Miles Purcell" and "Elizabeth Walsh" during the marriage, had made their marks on the register opposite these names, and had received a certificate of marriage purporting that Miles Purcell had been married to Elizabeth Walsh. On the prisoners being charged in the usual form, Purcell said "I do not deny it," and Kelly said, "I asked Purcell how I must get my name changed, and Purcell and Carr (a witness to the wedding) said it did not signify." Carr denied this. The prisoners were committed for trial at the assizes.

ARRIVAL OF MORMONS.—The Amazon from London, and the Cymara, from Liverpool, arrived at New York on 23d July, loaded with Mormons en route for Salt Lake City. The former brought 877 persons and the latter 747—total 1,624. The immigrants are, in the main, intelligent, well-dressed people, who have some means, and an abiding belief in the faith and practice of the Salt Lake people.—New York Paper.

DOWN BY THE DOCKS.—Down by the Docks, the pawnbroker lends money on Union-Jack pocket handkerchiefs, on watches with little ships pitching fore and aft on the dial, on telescopes, nautical instruments in cases, and such like. Down by the Docks, the apothecary sets up in business on the wretchedest scale—chiefly on lint and plaster for the strapping of wounds—and with no bright bottles, and with no little drawers Down by the Docks, the shabby undertaker's shop will bury you for next to nothing, after the Malay or Chinaman has stabbed you for nothing at all: so you can hardly hope to make a cheap end. Down by the Docks, anybody drunk will quarrel with anybody drunk or sober, and everybody else will have a hand in it, and on the shortest notice you may revolve in a whirlpool of red shirts, shaggy beards, wild heads of hair, bare tattooed arms, Britannia's daughters, malice, mad mauling and madness. Down by the Docks, scraping fiddles go in the public-houses all day long, and, shrill above their din and all the din, rises the screeching of innumerable parrots brought from foreign parts, who appear to be very much astonished at what they find on these native shores of ours. Possibly the parrots don't know, possibly they do, that Down by the Docks is the road to the Pacific Ocean, with its lovely islands, where the savage girls plant flowers, and the savage boys carve coconuts and shells, and the grim blind idols muse in their shady groves to exactly the same purpose as the priests and chiefs. And possibly the parrots don't know, possibly they do, that the noble savage is a wearisome impostor wherever he is, and has five hundred thousand volumes of indifferent rhyme, and no reason, to answer for.—Pickers' "All the Year round."

BOLLING SPRINGS IN THE SIERRA NEVADA.—The Esmeralda, Star, in a notice of the new road from Aurora to Sonora, has the following references to a natural curiosity:

The Bolling Springs are among the greatest curiosities to be found in the State. They are situated about 40 miles west of Aurora, at the opening of a lovely and picturesque valley; the hills being thickly covered with sugar-pine, and the grass in the valley being nearly two feet high upon an average. The springs cover a space of about 50 feet in diameter and are about 18 inches deep; the water is boiling hot, and will boil an egg hard in four minutes. There is a fine spring of cold water in close proximity and as clear as crystal. As the road passes immediately by the Bolling Springs, a house has been erected for the accommodation of travellers who can enjoy a fine bath. The water is highly medicinal, and in many instances has been found to work a perfect cure in cases of inflammatory rheumatism and other maladies.

A Lock of Hair.

Only a lock of hair, tied with a silken string,
Carefully kept for years, like a miser's pig of gold;
Little to prize in the keeping of such a simple thing,
But for a darling head long lost in the days of old.

Only a lock of hair. Ah, well, it were better to have Even one little tress safe from the Spoiler's hand,
Than, with the light of her love down in the darkling
grave,
Lonely to wander around a desolate, weary land.

Only a lock of hair. Yet something to look at and kiss:
Something to keep in mind what never can be again;
Something to tell of days unshadowed by anguish like this:

Something to bring soft thoughts to a saddened and dreary brain.—Chamber's Journal.

Pursuit of Agriculture in Canada.

The Minister for Agriculture in Canada holds up the system in France as the best in Europe, and the most worthy of imitation in Canada.
Instruction in first principles is much needed
and should be disseminated in short pamphlets, dispersed at the expense of the State amongst the farmers. The perfected English breeds of all kinds are represented in Canada West by male animals worthy of being exhibited at the European shows, and no other country in the world except England can bring together so remarkable a collection of cattle of the best breeds.
The Minister thus explains the French system:—

"In an agricultural sense, France is divided into eight districts, each of which has its annual district exhibition and its inspection of agriculture, who devotes his whole time to the study of the most efficient means of developing the resources of each locality in this district. And this probably is one of the most efficient provisions of all agricultural organizations. The Inspectors-General are the link between the Government and the rural population. They spend their whole time in the country parts, where they study the special nature of the climate, the soil and the capital employed, and are thus in a position to form a correct opinion as to the progress to be desired and the results obtained.
Their annual reports are at once an expression of the requirements of the farmers and the reply of the Government to a thousand questions addressed to it. These documents, prepared by men of great ability, are full of valuable information and are undoubtedly the best of the annual publications, containing, as they do, facts.
It is since the appointment of Inspectors-General of Agriculture that the progressive agricultural movement hitherto confined to the neighbourhood of the great centres has been observed to expand and spread itself suddenly over the whole land. The national exhibitions, which are held periodically at Paris, contribute not a little to the development of French agriculture. The management of the list of prizes and large amounts offered are the two chief causes of their great success. International agricultural exhibitions are of all recent innovations, that which has done most to prove the advantage of improved agriculture. The comparison of breeds of cattle brought from all parts of Europe, with their various conformation, differing with the climate,
the soil and the system of cultivation, is a good means of attracting the attention of even the most superficial observer. Agricultural organization in Canada is complete enough in principle
but in practice it presents difficulties of superintendence which amount almost to impossibilities.
We have our Boards of Agriculture, constituting a superior council charged with the management of all the county agricultural societies. Unfortunately, there is not sufficiently close connection between the local societies and the Boards of Agriculture, any more than between the latter and the Department of Agriculture. Thus each society is left to take its own course without being under the control of any superior authority.
To this, beyond a question, to be traced the different results obtained by each society. Were the board of direction composed of men possessed of sufficient agricultural knowledge to apply the funds voted by the State well, we should in a few years see a complete transformation in the country. If, on the other hand, the board of direction are ignorant of the first principles of improved agriculture, the public moneys are spent without any return in ill-conducted exhibitions, which are certainly rather a distribution of the annual grant than a serious examination into the results obtained and the best means of increasing agricultural productions. Some machinery or method is evidently wanting in our agricultural organization, and this consists in the Inspectors-General of Agriculture, who, as we see in the case of France, play an important part in the work of disseminating agricultural knowledge."—*London

COLORED CLERGYMAN IN NORTH CAROLINA.—On Sunday, July 9th, at the close of a sermon in the principal colored church of Newbern, N. C., by the Rev. W. C. Whitcomb, Hospital Chaplain, 105 children were christened and baptized by him and the Rev. J. N. Mars, Chaplain First North Carolina colored regiment; Chaplain Mars stating that it was the first instance where a colored minister had been allowed to officiate in the ordinance of infant baptism in North Carolina. The scene was unusually impressive and affecting. One of the children was named Stanley, not for the late governor, however, as the mother earnestly declared, and one of them Abraham, after the President.—N. Y. Post.

THE SUFFERER'S BEST FRIEND.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

All Disorders affecting the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

These Pills can be confidently recommended as the most simple and certain remedy for indigestion, flatulency, acidity, heartburn, colic, constipation, and all the many maladies resulting from disordered stomach or bowels. In all diseases it is of primary importance to set the stomach right. These Pills are purifiers, alternatives, and strengtheners of the stomach. They may be taken under any circumstances. Though powerfully tonic, and satisfactorily aperient, they are mild in their operation, and beneficial to the whole system.

Weakness and Debility, Nervous Irritability.

The wholesale effect exercised by these admirable Pills over the blood and fluids generally is like a charm
in dispelling low spirits, and restoring cheerfulness.
Their general aperient qualities well fit them for a domestic medicine, particularly for females of all ages and periods of life. They never betray any disagreeable irritating qualities; they quickly eject all impurities from the system, and regulate every function of the body, giving wonderful tone and energy to weak and debilitated persons; while they brace and strengthen the nervous system in a most extraordinary manner.

To Regain Health, Strength and Vigour.

Whenever persons find themselves in that state termed a "little out of health," and there are so many causes
at work to shorten life, it is necessary that Holloway's Pills, the finest purifier of the blood ever known, should be at once taken, as they not only rid both solids and fluids of all morbid matters, but regulate all disordered actions, and strengthen the frame in a most extraordinary manner.

Old Coughs, Colds and Asthmatical Affections.

These Pills, assisted in their action by rubbing Holloway's Ointment very effectually twice a day upon the throat and chest, and keeping those parts covered with the preparation, will be found the most effectual remedy for asthma, coughs, colds, bronchitis, and influenza.
These remedies tranquilize the hurried breathing,
soothe the irritated air-tubes, and assist in dislodging the phlegm which stops up the air-passages. This treatment has proved wonderfully efficient in not only curing old settled colds, but asthma of many years standing, and even when patients who were in so bad a state as not able to lie down on their beds lest they be choked with phlegm.

Derangement and Distention of the Bowels, Flatulency, Diarrhoea and Dysentery.

Any symptoms of the above complaints should be immediately met by appropriate doses of these Pills, according to the printed directions: delay may be followed by disastrous consequences. These Pills are a certain remedy for all the ailments of the alimentary canal, they secure the thorough digestion of the food, and act most kindly on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. As a household medicine they are unrivalled, and should always be at hand.

Very Important, of Costiveness Beware.

Rarely but little notice is taken of costiveness, yet,
at certain periods, it is a sure sign that danger is near.
All who are seized with apoplexy and paralysis, have previously suffered from costiveness. In the former case the blood flies to the head, a small vein is ruptured, on the brain, and we know the rest. Let wives counsel their husbands, and husbands their wives, never to go to bed a second night, if the bowels have not been properly moved during the day, particularly if they feel heavy and drowsy. A few gentle doses of these fine Pills will regulate the circulation of the blood, and all dangerous symptoms.

" Lytton to McLean's, 47 "

" McLean's to Junction of Wagon Roads, 19 "

Shippers:

From Douglas to Lillooet, 110 Miles.

" Lillooet to Junction, 47 "

THE JUNCTION

is the point at which the Wagon Roads intersect, each other, and where the Cariboo-bound traveller by the Yale-Lytton and Douglas-Lillooet routes MUST meet.
It will, therefore, be seen by the above figures that the traveller by YALE and LYTTON has

THIRTY-THREE MILES LESS TRAVEL
